A New Beginning

Cape Cod Community College enters its second quarter century as a mature, but still young, institution.

The early years (1961-1970) were a period of establishment: in temporary quarters, in Hyannis, "the old school." Memory dims and many of us never knew that time, but the importance of that solid beginning endures: a strong academic foundation. The college was accredited.

In the autumn of 1970, the move to the campus in West Barnstable provided the opportunity for growth in size and in variety of educational opportunities. The completion of buildings was accompanied by an increasing enrollment. The introduction of new collegiate technical degree programs forced physical renovations, but provided students with valuable options. Success of graduates who transferred to baccalaureate programs had been established. Gratifying reports of success of graduates working in chosen occupations were received.

During the late 1970's and early 1980's, the night school became the flexible and growing part of the college. Still more recently community service endeavors have brought greater variety, reaching out to the business community, the health facilities, and the growing population of retired people on the Cape and Islands.

Now, in its twenty-sixth year, the college reaffirms its essential role in the community to provide strong education in both the liberal arts and the technologies. It begins again to concentrate resources to meet the needs and wishes of the citizens. Accessibility, economy and excellence continue as appropriate goals.

As the graduates today commence, we hope they will flourish. We ask them to begin again with their college. We dedicate our efforts to maintain the institution and to continue to build a college which will make them proud.

The Academic Procession and Regalia

Traditional commencement academic procession and regalia date back to the Middle Ages. Voluminous gowns were worn to ward off the damp and cold of medieval buildings; mortar boards were used as hats. When those styles were abandoned by laymen, clergy and scholars continued to wear the robes, with variations in style and color identifying different monastic orders. The bachelor, master, and doctor gowns differ stylistically in cut and decorative motif.

Today the hood is especially important in identifying the academic achievements of its wearer. Originally, the hoods were worn over the head. A long tassel is attached to the middle point of the top of the cap to drape over the edge of the mortar board. Tassels may be black, gold, or a color appropriate to the academic field of the wearer. The colors of the hood lining indicate the institution granting the degree. The width of the velvet trim indicates the highest degree held; the color of the trim indicates the field of study.

An intercollegiate code representing different departments of learning has set the standards for academic dress in the United States. The colors are assigned as follows:

Agriculture	Maize	Medicine	Green
Arts, Letters, Humanities	White	Music	Pink
Business Administration	Drab	Nursing	Apricot
Dentistry	Lilac	Oratory	Silver Gray
Economics	Copper	Pharmacy	Olive Green
Education	Light Blue	Philosophy	Dark Blue
Engineering	Orange	Physical Education	Sage Green
Fine Arts	Brown	Public Administration	Peacock Blue
Forestry	Russet	Public Health	Salmon Pink
Home Economics	Maroon	Science	Gold-Yellow
Journalism	Crimson	Social Science	Citron
Law	Purple	Theology or Divinity	Scarlet
Library Science	Lemon	Veterinary Science	Gray

The office of mace bearer is purely ceremonial. It derives from medieval times in England when an official was taking office or opening his court and needed a bodyguard. Then the mace, a formidable weapon, was held ready to protect the person of the dignitary.

From the sixteenth century in England and since colonial days in America, it has become a symbol of office only, and is carried by a distinguished member of the faculty. The mace bearer, who immediately precedes the president both entering and leaving the ceremony, while often not included in today's exercises, remains popular on the older campuses in the East.

At Cape Cod Community College, the academic regalia of the Board of Trustees correspond to doctoral caps and gowns with gold tassels; the colorful hoods lined with red display the College colors of silver and blue. Faculty robes signify the wearer's respective university and discipline. The mace, a gift of the Class of 1984, is borne by the Grand Marshal who leads the academic procession.

Invocation and Benediction

The Reverend James M. Webb, executive director of the Cape Cod Council of Churches since 1984, has devoted the last 23 years to ecumenical work. He has served as executive of the councils of churches for the states of Connecticut, Rhode Island and Illinois. He is a native mid-westerner, educated at Colgate University and a minister of the American Baptist Churches, U.S.A.

Monsignor Henry T. Munroe, pastor of St. Pius Tenth Church in South Yarmouth for nearly 12 years, is also episcopal vicar for Cape Cod and the Islands and judicial vicar for the Fall River diocese. Monsignor Munroe was ordained in 1953 after graduation from St. John's Seminary and Providence College. He was pastor of St. John the Evangelist parish in Attleboro and earlier was assistant pastor of Holy Name Church, New Bedford.

Addresses to the Graduates

Amy Ann Bejtlich, served as president of the Student Senate of Cape Cod Community College, providing enthusiasm and creativity to student life on campus. After graduation from Bourne High School in 1985, she entered the Liberal Arts program at the college. She has been the leader of successful fund-raising campaigns for the March of Dimes, American Cancer Society and Interplast, and served on various college committees and the Board of Advisors at Cape Cod Bank & Trust. Her future plans include a career in political science.

Evelyn F. Murphy, Lieutenant Governor of Massachusetts, is the first woman elected to constitutional office in Massachusetts' history. She is an economist who served as secretary of both Economic Affairs and Environmental Affairs in the Dukakis administration. She earned her A.B. degree in Mathematics from Duke University, her masters degree in Economics from Columbia University and her doctorate in Economics from Duke. She chaired the National Advisory Committee on Oceans and Atmosphere for President Jimmy Carter. In state government she helped launch the Centers of Excellence program, developed employment training programs for minorities, youth and welfare recipients, and encouraged corporate sponsored child-care facilities. At present she is chairman of the National Women Executives in State Government.

Music for the Graduates

Historically, pipers have led troops into battle; today colorful inspirational sounds provide pageantry at a college commencement ceremony. Participants tonight are the Highland Light Scottish Pipe Band of Cape Cod — pipes and tenor, base and side drums. They are attired in quasi-military garb. This Band has been playing on Cape Cod for about eleven years.

The College Chorus is a long established campus institution drawing its membership from students, faculty, staff and the community. They rehearse twice weekly during each semester under the direction of Dr. Robert W. Kidd. This summer the College Chorus will have a summer concert tour of France and Britain.

It is not enough to acquire wisdom,
it is necessary to employ it.
